

Master of Business Administration (MBA)

Course Rationale

If your career plan includes securing a high-level management position or becoming a successful global entrepreneur, then the Global College Malta Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree will help open those doors for you to work anywhere in the world and ultimately prove that you are an expert within your industry.

The Global College MBA is designed to integrate your own work-based learning and teach you the academic skills and ethics to become a successful leader who can think logically and independently. Our MBA will prepare you for the challenges of management, exposing you to the latest thinking in business across a variety of sectors within an international context. You will engage with key management disciplines including financial and economic analysis, strategy and innovation, managing and developing people, global marketing management, operations and supply chain management, and cross-cultural management and ethics.

Fundamental to our approach is a focus on both theory and practice. You will engage in activities ranging from lectures to workshops. Your final project will allow you to further develop your consulting skills, write a business plan or engage in a more traditional academic report.

Our strong emphasis on your personal and leadership development will be supported by regular sessions to develop your skills in a wide range of areas from communication and negotiation to team-building and leadership.

The course is studied on a full-time basis over a period of one year.

Entry Requirements

Prior to entering the Master's programme of study with the College, applicants should normally possess:

- A good degree from a recognised university institution or equivalent recognised higher education institution. Whilst a degree in a subject broadly related to Business and Management is advantageous, this is not essential. Where appropriate, a discussion will be held with the applicant to determine their suitability, or
- A graduate level professional qualification from a recognised University institution or appropriate comparable recognised higher education institution. A graduate level professional qualification in a subject broadly related to Business and Management is advantageous. Where appropriate, a discussion will be held with the applicant to determine their suitability, or
- Where appropriate, a pre-master's orientation programme approved by Global College Malta.

Students whose first Language is not English and who have not previously been exposed to spoken and written English at a reasonably advanced level will normally be required to demonstrate an English competence of IELTS 6.0 or equivalent. The College may undertake a video interview with the prospective student to better understand their English proficiency and, where appropriate, may also require a Medium of Instruction certificate from the student's previous educational institution. The English language proficiency requirement may be waived if the student is a native speaker of English and they have completed their secondary education in a country where English is the official language or English was the language of instruction where they graduated.

Applicants are strongly encouraged to have two or more years' relevant work experience, although this need not necessarily be continuous, and may have been undertaken on a voluntary or unpaid basis.

Course Learning Outcome

Having close regard to the level descriptors of Level 7 of the Malta Qualifications Framework, the overall educational aims of the College's Masters programme are as follows:

- To provide a programme of study that will enable students to fulfil their intellectual, professional and human potential through a transformative educational experience that combines rigorous academic study with immersive exposure to contemporary practice in business and management;
- To develop international professionals and leaders with the vision, knowledge, creativity, skills, ethics and entrepreneurial ability necessary to take an integrated, critically aware, dynamic and strategic view of organisations and to make a valuable contribution to both organisations and society;
- To develop analytical abilities, using concepts derived from a wide range of academic disciplines, directed towards business problem solving and innovation in organisational contexts;
- To instill a professional mindset characterised by a strong work ethic, desire to excel, creative thinking, social awareness and global outlook;
- To provide students with managerial competence in a variety of applied skills; and,
- To develop business acumen, personal and professional skills, and autonomous learning ability to enhance students' employability on graduation and their life-long career prospects.

Course Teaching and Learning

The Global College Malta Master's programme of study uses a range of teaching methods to suit different learning styles. Typically, the programme of study is delivered through a combination of modern face-to-face lectures, webinars, seminars and discussion forums, tutorials, group work, case studies, guest speakers, organisational visits and independent study.

Delivery of the College's Master's programme has close regard to the needs of learners. Accordingly, much of the learning is either delivered at times to suit those learners who may have day time employment or child care commitments or made available in a supported teaching format. At all times, the views and needs of students are taken into account. By means of example, theoretical concepts might typically be delivered to students in modern face-to-face lecture formats which may then be further developed through subsequent interactions based around small group seminars, group case study analysis and digital discussions. Modern face-to-face and interactive learning sessions encourage students to critically examine key elements of business and management. In addition to attendance at formal learning sessions, students are expected to undertake independent self-study in order to support their individual learning journeys.

To assist with independent self-study and group work the College provides access to a large number of physical and electronic learning resources. The rich learning materials made available by the College may include lecture presentations and supporting learning notes, topic discussion chat opportunities, links to videos and web pages, and much more. The use of modern delivery tools has enabled highly effective and creative delivery and discussion opportunities, which learners welcome. The ability of the student learner to be able to access certain learning content at a time and in a location that suits them has proved to be a highly effective learning mechanism, enabling robust reflection and skills embedding in a social context that suits changing lifestyles. The modern learning techniques used by the College enables our student learners to develop a range of life skills alongside their academic business skills.

In addition to utilising a rich and varied range of delivery techniques, assessment of the programme of study and its constituent modules is designed to be an integral part of the learning process for students in order to enhance and confirm their knowledge and practice. In addition to summative assessment, formative feedback is provided to students through a combination of tutor feedback, self-reflection and peer group feedback. Combined, formative and summative assessments provide a measure of the extent to which students have achieved the learning outcomes of the individual modules.

Assessment

The programme of study utilises a variety of modern assessment techniques including coursework and examinations. Coursework is typically in the form of essays, reports or case studies, while group or individual presentations may be required to assess other competencies. Examinations typically take the form of written elements or multiple-choice questions and maybe unseen or part-seen, where assessment material is released in advance. The College seeks to offer flexibility in how assessments are undertaken and, where appropriate and pedagogically secure, the programme of study may utilise relevant online tools to deliver assessments. Details of the assessment procedures are given in the individual module specifications. All written assessments are submitted online via the internationally recognised plagiarism software, Turnitin.

Module Teaching and Assessment for all Modules except Dissertation

The module will normally have the following assessment regime:

- Written examination: this will typically account for some 40% of the final grade and takes the form of a written examination under controlled conditions.
- Individual Essay(s): this will typically account for some 40% of the final grade and takes the form of a specialised essay. Students will be required to explore an emerging trend or topic within the theory and practice of the module discipline. This will require an extensive search of the relevant academic and practitioner-based literature and students will need to make reference to both academic and industrial/practitioner sources in their written work.
- Group work: this will typically account for some 20% of the final grade and takes the form of a report. A selection of the groups will be invited to present or pitch at the end of the module to a panel.

Module Teaching and Assessment for Dissertation

Each student will be allocated a supervisor who will help them with the development of their project proposal, oversee progress with the project, comment as appropriate on draft materials produced by the student and be available to assist the student with the project, as appropriate.

The dissertation/major project is assessed via the production of a dissertation of some 10,000 to 12,000 words in length.

Where necessary, a viva voce will be conducted in those instances where the provisional mark is considered to be a marginal pass.

To successfully complete the module an overall pass mark of 40% must be achieved.

All assessments will be submitted via the internationally recognised plagiarism software Turnitin.

Study Material

All students will have access to EBSCO, the world's largest online library, Moodle for class notes and Turnitin for the upload of assignments.
